

Financial performance management

KPMG and Acumen, two partners one goal: strengthen your business' profitability

The challenge

In today's complex business environment, organizations need more insight into the cost and related profitability of their products, customers and activities. KPMG and Acumen joined forces to provide and facilitate these insights. Together we strive to drive down costs and strengthen profitability for your business. We operate hand in hand when it comes to helping you enhance your performance management. As a team we have the knowledge and technical skills to seamlessly help you add value to your finance department.

KPMG and Acumen approach

A key factor in strengthening your profitability is driving down costs without compromising on quality. This is why we created our partnership. With our team you not only gain expertise but also A-Z guidance while reducing costs.

KPMG can help you:

- Understand the profitability across multiple dimensions.
- Drive informed business decisions with genuine insight.
- Link budgets and forecasts to business drivers.
- Combine group figures and measure overall financial statement performance.

Acumen can help you:

- Turn data into insightful, relevant and timely information.
- Implement a future-proof approach on a tailored and scalable architecture.
- Transfer competences and cooperate with our clients to maximize the effectiveness of the approach.
- Manage the support during and after implementation.

Our team can tackle your organization's challenges and help you turn your finance department into a value adding business partner. We help you find new ways to grow and innovative responses to your challenges. Together we make the difference.

Your benefits

Through the KPMG and Acumen partnership you can now start benefiting from a multi-disciplinary approach to enhancing your performance management.

With their strategic and functional skills, the KPMG experts offer deep knowledge on financial performance management covering domains such as planning, budgeting, forecasting, reporting, dashboarding and advanced analytics.

Matching this expertise with Acumen's operational skills facilitates a smooth transition from strategy to execution. Acumen's team of flexible and engaging experts are ready to stand by your side during the implementation process.
