Accounting Advisory Services

Overview

While emerging and complex accounting and regulatory changes are driving the need for enhanced skills, the world and business are also moving at a speed we never thought possible. If companies and people don't keep up, it will become almost impossible to catch up.

KPMG's eLearning solution helps employees strengthen their skills by providing easy access to an extensive list of digital self-studies on technical accounting. A cost-effective way to close learning gaps in a sustainable manner.

Courses have been developed by KPMG subject matter professionals and leading practitioners from academia and business. New content is added on a quarterly basis.

KPMG has helped middle-market and global companies strengthen their staff and secure their future. Let us help you stay ahead of changes with relevant, timely training that addresses today's needs and tomorrow's demands.

Staggering Statistics

1 in 3 people leave their company within the 1st year, costing the company up to 3 times their salary. 70% of employees say "Learning and Development" opportunities influenced their decision to stay at their company.

According to the Association for Talent Development, companies that offer "Learning and Development" have 218% higher income per employee than companies that don't. They also enjoy a 24% higher profit margin.
