

Update on CIGA requirement

The Financial Services Commission (“FSC”) has clarified that the Core Income Generating Activities (“CIGA”) requirement will only apply where global business companies are claiming 80% tax partial exemption. As such, global business companies which are not claiming the 80% tax partial exemption will not be required to meet the CIGA requirement.

As a reminder, important changes in the global business regime which were made in 2018 took effect as from July 2021. The main changes are as follows:

KPMG Views

The clarification from the FSC on the CIGA requirement is welcomed by the global business community and also bring along tax certainty. The changes made to the global business sector in 2018 were important to ensure that the jurisdiction is compliant with all the latest international tax norms and continue to be on the EU white list of non-cooperative tax jurisdiction.

How KPMG can assist you

- Assess the application of CIGA requirement on existing and new structures
- Assess the eligibility of tax partial exemption for your entity
- Identify any gaps in relation economic substance and provide recommendations
