RESTAURANT RECOMMENDATIONS

BROUGHT TO YOU BY

CARBONE

This classic Italian New Yorker diner has us dreaming about their monster portions of spicy vodka rigatoni, succulent meatballs, and juicy Porterhouse steaks. Brimming with theatrical flare, impeccable service and addictive flavours, this is as close as you can come to feeling like a New York mobster in Hong Kong.

9/F, LKF Tower, 33 Wyndham Street,
Central
Phone: 2593 2593

TRENDY RESTAURANTS

LIMEWOOD

For those looking to escape the city, this beachside diner bordering Repulse Bay may just be the answer. A whole snapper may swim its way to your table, or the burnt orange rum punch may get you dancing on tabletops. The menu is packed full of South American, Hawaiian and Southeast Asian influences, and the beach setting really seals the deal.

Shop 103/104, The Pulse, 28 Beach Road, Repulse Bay
Phone: 2866 8668

MRS. POUND

Mr. Ming's unassuming chop shop exterior leads to a glittery, unashamedly pink-loving speakeasy dedicated to his beloved performer Mrs. Pound in all her burlesque finery. It's the hippest joint in town and you have to know just which stamp to press for the secret door to open.

Once "in the know", sample their array of hipster Southeast Asian-centric dishes including the beef rendang bao, laksa bibimbap, and ma po pasta.

6 Pound Lane, Sheung Wan
Phone: 3426 3949

GRASSROOTS PANTRY

This much-loved cafe in Sai Ying Pun has been nourishing the bodies and enlightening the minds of Hong Kongers for several years now. The seasonal produce used is always of the highest quality, and originates mainly from within Hong Kong.

The menu changes often, so there's never a dull moment.
 12 Fuk Sau Lane, Sai Ying Pun
 Phone: 2873 3353

NUR

A tasting menu for $1188 at one Michelin-starred NUR is a steal. Nourishing gastronomy with a focus on locally available ingredients is what the restaurant offers, and with chefs whose professional experiences range from the kitchens of Raymond Blanc to Rene Redzepi, it's the most delicious nourishment you might ever receive.

3/F, 1 Lyndhurst Tower, No. 1
 Lyndhurst Terrace, Central
 Phone: 2871 9993

BARS

PING PONG

Push through the innocuous red door on a silent street in Sai Ying Pun and you'll find yourself in a cavernous hidden speakeasy with a seductive menu brimming with gin-based cocktails. Hand chiselled ice cubes help the libations go down easily. Our favourite has got to be the London No. 1 Gin.

129 Second Street, Nam
 Cheong Hs, Sai Ying Pun,
 Phone: 9158 1584

HEALTHY EATING

ON LOUNGE

This stylish venue offers classic cocktails on a terrace overlooking the skyscrapers of Central Hong Kong. Vermouth is a highlight of the bar, and pairs beautifully with the artisanal cheese platter, flown in weekly from France.

BEACHES

SHEK O

This small seaside village offers a wide range of attractions and facilities including changing rooms, equipment rentals, BBQ areas, and rustic seafood restaurants on the beach. Shek O is the perfect trip destination for everyone, whether you want to catch some waves, spend time with family and friends, or just chill out and relax.

REPULSE BAY

Easily accessible via bus or taxi, Repulse Bay is one of Hong Kong's most popular tourist spots. The attraction of Repulse Bay lies not only in its beaches, but also the myriad of statues, shrines, and pavilions nearby. For those interested in Hong Kong's rich cultural heritage, the Kwun Yam Shrine and the Tin Hau Statue are a must-see.

TAI LONG WAN

If you are looking for a place with a little more solitude, Tai Long Wan may be the beach for you. Only accessible via boat or an hour-long hike, Tai Long Wan's secluded stretches of white sand and clear blue water make it a perfect escape from the hectic pace of city life.

An insights centre for Asia

AN EXECUTIVE DIGITAL WORKSPACE
WITH DATA AND ANALYTICS AT THE CORE

“Innovative companies are realising that the most valuable and powerful asset they have is data – if they use it properly.”

– James McKeogh, FinTech Partner,
KPMG China

KPMG is setting up a regional Insights Centre in Hong Kong to expand its portfolio of data analytics solutions to help clients unlock the value of their data.

The centre will be a virtual R&D environment that serves as a global innovation hub with the aim of incubating and developing data-driven business solutions for KPMG’s clients. It provides the opportunity for new data and analytics (D&A) applications to be developed, “proof of concept”, designs to be demonstrated and verified, and ideas accelerated.

“Hong Kong has done a phenomenal job of transforming itself from a manufacturing to service economy. It has reinvented itself, moved up the value chain and become the innovation hub in Asia. With the strong uptake of mobile and electronic commerce, Hong Kong has a key role to play in data analytics”

– Egidio Zarrella, Clients and Innovation
Partner, KPMG China

Hong Kong was selected as the centre’s regional home for several reasons including the city’s status as Asia’s biggest financial services hub, the large number of multinationals with regional offices located here and the increasing number of Chinese companies using it as the jumping off point for their global operations.

From Hong Kong, the centre will serve clients across the region. Its ultimate goal is to open the way for companies to visualise trends and patterns in their data, to enable them to make better business decisions.

10 must do's for successful pitching

Brought to you by WHub

Most of us hate it, but most of us have to go through it at least once in our startup life time: PITCHING! But as the saying goes: If you didn't get dirty, you didn't play! Here are some tips that help you hit the homerun.

1) The Project and the Team

There are only 2 parts to a pitch: The Project and the Team! You need to get both right to convince an investor. Knowing that the Team has most often more than 50% weight in the decision making.

2) Get your Team right

Be clear on your team's skill set, experience and capacity. Fill in the blanks via your mentors, advisors or your board! Looking for an Asian investor? Talk about your past success cases. Looking for an US based investor - celebrate your past failures!

3) Explain the Problem

Don't focus on your Product, focus on the Problem! Tell a Story. Investors need to know what the problem is you are solving and why. It's not your love to your product that counts, it is the love of the potential thousands of consumers to your product that will matter!

4) Seeing is believing

A photo or demo can tell more than thousand words. Or a customer testimonial. You don't have your MVP yet? Focus on the nitty-gritty elements, but don't get lost in the details! Keep it simple and impactful.

5) Traction & Milestones

Have your hockey stick chart ready! If you do not have proof of concept yet, at least show that you know exactly where you are going - and be ambitious!

6) What's your competitive advantage

Breakthrough technology (you'd better have it protected) or network/scale? Be clear on not only how/where you are going to be superior, but also which points need to be at least on parity in order to successfully compete vs. other players!

7) Be precise on your monetisation model

The more detailed, the better. No worries, you can always pivot moving forward. But don't say: There are plenty of ways to monetise from advertising over selling big data to subscription ..... to an investor, this reads like "I have no clue and not even thought about it!"

8) Inspire trust

Be honest. You don't know everything and it is OK not to know everything. But don't BS! Get back to the investor and show that you are reliable and able to follow-up.

9) Practice

Practice. Practice. Practice. Everyday, everywhere, to your team and to people that know nothing about what you do.

One more time : Practice. Practice. Practice.

10) Questions

Prepare for questions and know how to deal with tough ones! Never start by answering an investor's question with "good question." Instead take a deep breath, answer with stats and numerical where applicable. Show confidence and direct to the key points you want to highlight.

Don't be defensive: Feedback is a gift! Put each and every single ounce of energy you have into your pitch.

Remember, investors invest in people.
