

Internal Audit: Gambling in Malta

The Gambling sphere in Malta has flourished over the past ten years, and today contributes to over 10% of Malta's overall GDP. Malta has been able to capitalise on its EU first mover advantage, and has continued to be proactive in developing its regulatory framework to sustain the island's competitive edge at the forefront of the gambling sphere. Today, Malta hosts over 300 gambling companies, has issued more than 500 licences and sports a workforce in excess of 8,000 multi-national industry professionals.

What do you need?

Your organisation needs an effective Internal Audit function through which it enhances the efficiency and effectiveness of its processes for:

Risk Management

Regulatory Compliance

Governance

You need an Internal Audit function which assists you in ensuring that your processes and controls will allow you to navigate your way through your top strategic and operational risks. You need assurance that your strategy is well communicated and executed. On a day-to-day basis you require that controls over areas such as revenue recognition, cash and project management are efficient and effective.

Your organisation needs to identify the regulation applicable to its operations across the different jurisdictions in which it is present. Processes must be in place to ensure compliance to such regulation and avoid potential sanctions.

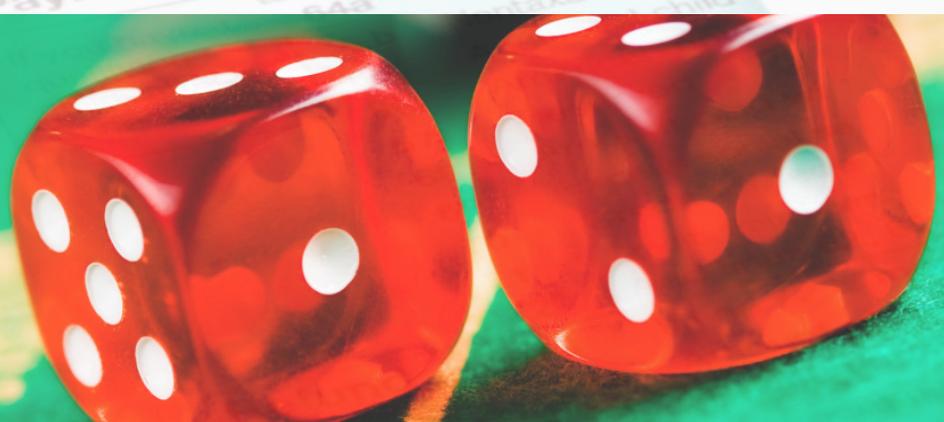

Governance processes need to be in place so as to ensure that the integrity and reputation of your organisation are protected. In particular your governance processes need to focus on: transparency, disclosure, and accountability; responsible and effective stakeholder relationship management; and equitable treatment of shareholders.

More importantly you need an Internal Audit function which is designed to add value.
