Washington	B&O Tax Indirect Tax	On Feb. 29, 2020, Governor Jay Inslee declared a state of emergency with regard to COVID-19. In response, the Department of Revenue announced that it can work with affected businesses that request an extension on tax filing. The law grants the Department authority to extend the due date for excise tax returns. A business may request an extension from the Department prior to the due date of the return, and, if granted, the business would be allowed to delay reporting and paying its tax liability. If a business needs an extension of more than 30 days, the law requires the Department to collect a deposit from the business. The Department may also waive late payment penalties in certain circumstances. Wash. Admin.
