Legislative update: Updated charts reflecting provisions in President Biden's business tax proposals

This edition of TaxNewsFlash provides updated charts summarizing the business tax proposals in President Biden's "Build Back Better" recovery plan.

The recovery plan (announced March 31, 2021) consists of two elements—the first includes significant proposed changes to corporation taxation. Proposals relating to individual taxation are expected to be part of the second element of the recovery plan, to be announced in "coming weeks."

The first element of the recovery plan consists of two components—the "American Jobs Plan" and the "Made in America Tax Plan." The American Jobs Plan proposes about $2 trillion in investments over eight years, the costs of which would be fully offset over 15 years by tax law changes in the "Made in America Tax Plan."

"American Jobs Plan"

The Biden Administration has described the American Jobs Plan as consisting of four key elements:

- Investment in transportation infrastructure, such as roads, bridge, and rails
- Investment in "how we live at home," including in infrastructure relating to clean water; universal access to affordable broadband; upgrading and reorienting power infrastructure; and investment in repairs of schools, community colleges, childcare facilities, federal buildings, and the veteran hospital (VA) system
- Investment in "care infrastructure," including through measures to reduce the waitlist for seeking care for family members and through ensuring that essential healthcare jobs are "well paying"
- Investments in research and development (R&D), clean energy R&D, incentives for domestic production in certain areas, and workforce training and apprenticeships

The American Jobs Plan also includes tax incentives intended to advance its policy goals.

“Made in America Tax Plan”

A White House fact sheet states that, along with the American Jobs Plan, President Biden “is proposing to fix the corporate tax code so that it incentives job creation and investment here in the United States, stops unfair and wasteful profit shifting to tax havens, and ensures that large corporations are paying their fair share.” It further describes the proposed changes as fundamentally reforming the way the tax code treats the largest corporations and helping to “bring an end to the race-to-the-bottom on corporate tax rates that allow countries to gain a competitive advantage by becoming tax havens.”
