From technology implementation to business transformation, KPMG will be with you along the way. Our solutions include the following benefits:

The power of KPMG and Microsoft

KPMG works to deliver tangible business results with trusted, relevant and innovative Microsoft technology solutions. Our experienced teams of Microsoft-certified Dynamics practitioners:

- Build solutions that help your business achieve your strategic vision
- Identify and deliver market-leading Microsoft products
- Implement solutions both on-premise and in the cloud

Global reach

Our international network encompasses member firms in over 155 countries. So whether your organization is implementing new technology solutions in one location or several, we'll be there. Our specialized teams have:

- The experience and advice your business needs
- The resources and capability to work across borders and across your organization
- Dedicated delivery centers focused on Microsoft implementation, configuration, and ongoing support.

A team that delivers

We can address your transformative technology needs, from adopting cloud and mobile technology, configurations, and complex integrations to providing 24/7 support services after your go-live. Our teams:

- Understand your unique challenges to help identify the right technology solution for your organization
- Deliver leading technology on time and at a reasonable cost.

The ability to think bigger

When it comes to business change, adopting the right technology solution is just part of the equation. We bring a fresh perspective to the challenges you face because we understand how organizations operate. And because we have extensive experience with business transformations, we can:

- Offer tested solutions and leading-practice advice
- Recognize where, when, and how technology can help unlock tangible value—while keeping the overall picture in mind.

Take the next step

At KPMG, we are not here just to implement IT systems. Our team of experienced professionals is dedicated to helping you make the most out of your technology investment—so you can achieve genuine business value.
